

Apple Remote Learning Resources and Support for NYC Parents

March 2020

Remote Learning

As K–12 and higher education institutions around the world adopt remote learning, Apple has new resources to support you.

There are curated collections in the App Store featuring remote learning apps for institutions and educators, apps to learn and study from home, and apps that work with Schoolwork.

We've developed free curriculums that make it easier to bring coding and core creative skills to every subject for every student. Learn more.

Learn more about Everyone Can Create, a curriculum that brings creative expression to every subject. Explore the collection of project guides.

Discover Everyone Can Code, when you teach code, you're not only teaching the language of technology. You're teaching new ways to think and bring ideas to life. And Apple has two programs to help you bring code into your classroom, whether you're just starting or ready to get your students certified in Swift. Get Started with Swift Playgrounds.

Apple devices come with built-in accessibility features to accommodate all learners. Learn more.

Other Helpful Info & Tips

- FaceTime supports up to 33 people at once in a group. Learn more.
- Find best practices for How to clean your Apple products.
- Explore Apple's Privacy Information for Parents.
- Learn more about about Parental Controls and how to set them up.

You can chat online and get help from these Apple Education support communities:

- Mac in Education
- iPad in Education